BRADLEY SAYS

22 » PRAMAC DUCATI

"If there was any time to make the switch to Ducati 2011 is the season. With Rossi making the switch across the bike will make a transformation, if I was Capirossi and De Puniet I would be rubbing my hands together at what could lie ahead for the Pramac Team."

27 » PREVIEW OF THE WORLD SUPERBIKE SEASON

"WSBK did create in my opinion some of the greatest races of 2010, the championship has depth and talent in abundance. Looking at how the Aprilia dominated in so many races last year it would be difficult to bet against Biaggi but the number one plate does funny things to riders!"

40 » YAMAHA R1

"Coming from two completely different bikes and seeing the lap times so close between both Melandri and Eugene in testing is very positive for Yamaha. Although the lap time has never been a problem for them - Cal Crutchlow got the 2010 award for the most fastest laps - it's the race set-up that needs to be their focus for the 2011 season."

50 » HONDA TT LEGENDS ENDURANCE TEAM

"I have watched Plater, McGuinness and Amor race on the roads on TV with my mouth wide open in disbelief as they bounce from kerb to kerb and brush past the trees and bushes. Although the World Endurance Championship requires a completely different style of racing, these three men have a great chance of winning."
